After students are awarded a SAYA scholarship, SAYA tracks the students' enrollment and grades, as well as continuing to provide support and guidance. Scholarships are given out in eight installments throughout each student's time in college.

Scholarship recipients share their grades and proof of course enrollment with SAYA after each semester, and must meet requirements previously shared with them in order to receive a subsequent installment. Students sign a contract when first awarded that the scholarship funds are to be used for the purpose of education related costs.

Form 990, Part III, Line 1 - Organization Mission

South Asian Youth Action, Inc. (SAYA) is a 501(c)3 youth development organization in New York City for students ranging in age from from first-graders to college students. Established in 1996, SAYA is South Asian-focused, inclusive and committed to connecting youth from all backgrounds to opportunities. SAYA's mission is to foster a strong sense of belonging in youth, and to provide them with tools to thrive academically, professionally, and personally. Most SAYA participants are recent immigrants who face challenges that can hinder their chances to be academically successful, graduate high school, and go to college. SAYA's holistic and comprehensive services include free leadership and identity development; academic support -- particularly through college access and success programming; career exploration; and sports, arts and STEM activities. SAYA provides an accessible, safe, and culturally affirming space for youth, offering mentorship beyond the classroom so they become engaged community leaders for college, career, and personal success.

Form 990, Part III, Line 4a - Program Service Accomplishments

Between July 2018 and June 2019, over 1,500 youth attended SAYA programming across ten locations. This population included elementary, middle, high school, and college students in nine schools throughout Queens and Brooklyn, and at our Elmhurst-based community center. During this period, our participants made strides in multiple areas, including college success, leadership skills, and critical social and emotional learning (SEL) competencies that have shown to have a long-term positive impact.

During this school year, a sample of SAYA youth were surveyed to measure the impact of our programming. Compared to 60 similar organizations, our community center programming was highlighted by our evaluation partner as a stand out program due to the gains made by youth in several SEL competencies, including Belonging and Problem Solving. Our youth showed an average increase of 23% in Problem Solving, meaning they can better identify, plan for, and solve problems, and a 19% increase in Belonging.

The completion of the year also brought the graduation from college of our first cohort of scholarship recipients. Of our participants across all four years of college during this school year, 97% were on track to graduate within five years, compared to the national average of 59% in six years. In addition, 90% of surveyed high school seniors stated that over half of what they knew about college came from attending SAYA.

SAYA continues to provide leadership programming to our youth, and in the 2018-19 school year introduced our Young Women's Leadership programming to our elementary school sites. Through improv and other activities, these young people are building skills such as confidence, resiliency, and collaboration. By providing gender-based programming to our younger participants, we help them own and amplify their voices so they can successfully advocate for themselves and others in the future.

Form 990, Part VI, Line 11b - Form 990 Review Process

Management reviewed a draft of the form 990 with the audit/finance committee and provided edits to the tax preparer. After this process was performed, the form 990 was sent to the full board of directors prior to being filed with the IRS.

Form 990, Part VI, Line 12c - Explanation of Monitoring and Enforcement of Conflicts

The organization has a board approved conflicts of interest policy. Each board member must fill out an annual declaration stating they had no conflicts or identifying the nature of their interested party transactions.

Form 990, Part VI, Line 15a - Compensation Review & Approval Process - CEO & Top Management

The Board Executive Committee annually reviews the performance of the Executive Director and refers to available industry data in order to determine a salary change. The Executive Director proposes annual salary increases and salary level changes for senior management positions based on annual performance evaluations and available comparable salary data. These proposed increases are reviewed, discussed and approved by the Board Executive Committee.

Form 990, Part VI, Line 19 - Other Organization Documents Publicly Available

SAYA makes its governing documents, conflict of interest policy and financial statements available to the public upon request.
